

Professor Neil Johnson

Neil holds an honorary position as Professor in Reproductive Health at the Robinson Research Institute, University of Adelaide, Australia, and holds an honorary academic position at the University of Auckland, New Zealand. He practices with Repromed Auckland and Auckland Gynaecology Group, Auckland, New Zealand. Neil will become President of the World Endometriosis Society in May 2017, is Chairperson of the Endometriosis New Zealand Trust Board and Immediate Past Chairperson of the RANZCOG subspecialty training programme in Reproductive Endocrinology and Infertility.