

Prof. Jacques Mégevand

Chief of Surgical Department, General and Oncologic Surgery, Humanitas-San Pio X Hospital in Milan (Italy) since 2002.

Dr. Megevand obtained his medical degree from University of Milan in 1986 and completed his surgical residency in Milan University, Hopital Paul Brousse Villejuif (Paris), Hopital Cantonal Universitaire (Geneva Switzerland) and Lund University (Sweden).

Since 2004 he is Professor at the Post-Graduated School of General Surgery at the University of Milan (Italy)

Dr. Megevand main interest, in last two decades, is digestive surgery, especially colo-rectal surgery, mainly with minimally invasive techniques; for that reason he developed in San Pio X Hospital, since 2011, a program of digestive surgery with Robotic Da Vinci System (multiport and single port)

Member of many scientific societies (EEAS, CRSA...), he was member of SIC board (Società Italiana di Chirurgia) and coauthor of some medical publications.

He speaks Italian, English and French.